'ELCANO Fino' Palomino
D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Elcano is aged in the solera for four years and bottled straight off the lees with minimal cold stabilization. Pale yellow in color, the wine is met with floral aromas and hints of meyer lemon. Aged slightly longer than Colosio Fino, the nutty mouth feel and saltiness in the palate has intensified."

'Sangre y Trabajadero Oloroso' Palomino
D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Aged for an average of 12 years in the solera system. A dry sherry that teases the palate into thinking it is sweet. Aromas of roasted hazelnuts and toffee are met with a salty, ocean tang; this is mirrored in the palate with saltier flavors and a caramel finish."

'Fino' Palomino
D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Having aged an average of three years, this is a youthful wine with light hints of flor, pear, and chamomile. The palate is intensely citrus, balanced with notes of crisp apple, salted almonds, and baguette crust."

'Manzanilla' Palomino
D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. A delicate bouquet of floral, date, and toasted hazelnut aromas. Dry, fresh and high-toned on the palate. Light acidity produces a pleasant lingering freshness and slightly bitter aftertaste."

'Amontillado' Palomino
D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. The Colosia Amontillado is aged in solera for eight years. The long barrel maturation furthers the rich amber color and complexity. Sea air aromas are rounded by notes of salted caramel, honey, and almonds. The palate is nutty with hints of hazelnuts and peanuts. A soft, tangy edge with hints of olive brine is carried through to the finish."

'Oloroso' Palomino
D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Aged for five years in the solera system. The finished wines display fragrant aromas of dried fruit and leather and lack the intense yeastiness of Fino Sherries. Aromas of black walnut, chocolate and figs give the allure of sweetness. Salty mid-palate open up to good acidity and notes of burnt orange peel and ginger with a bone-dry finish."

'Cream' Palomino & Pedro Ximénez

D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Cream is made with Oloroso sherry sweetened with a touch of Pedro Ximénez and aged for at least five years while it develops its dark color and round, velvety aromas. Being full-bodied on the palate, notes of orange blossom and cinnamon linger on the finish."

'Moscatel Soleado' Moscatel

El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Made from Moscatel de Alejandria grapes, the grapes are dried and shriveled in the sun before being pressed and fermented. Decadent to drink, aromas of orange zest and dried apricot are engulfed in a wave of honey. Yellow stone fruit and hints of spearmint balance the sweetness on the palate, with a nutty, fresh finish."

'Pedro Ximénez'

El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Pedro Ximénez grapes are over-ripened in the vineyards to maximize the natural sugars. Additionally, the clusters are dried in the sun before pressing. Rich and sweet, notes of dates and figs are carried through the nose and palate. Despite a high sugar content, the velvety mouthfeel is punctuated by black pepper overtones and liquorice sharpness."

'Palo Cortado Solera Familiar' Palomino

D.O. Jerez-Xérès-Sherry
El Puerto de Santa María | Andalucía, Spain

"Gutiérrez Colosia remains one of the last family-owned sherry operations, continuing a long tradition of crafting wines with passion and finesse. Made from Palomino, this 50-year-old wine was blended from a series of old wines tucked away in the cellar. Soft, sweet aromas of caramel, almonds, and a hint of citrus. Saline, concentrated palate with a tannic finish."
